87th Annual
NATIONAL CONFERENCE
OF BANKRUPTCY JUDGES

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

The 87th Annual Meeting of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges will be held, for the first time, in the beautiful city of Atlanta from October 30 through November 2, 2013. The conference will be held in the recently renovated Marriott Marquis Hotel in downtown Atlanta. The hotel is easily accessible from Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport via the local rapid transportation system (MARTA) and by cab.

We expect to have over 150 bankruptcy judges in attendance, as well as a number of international jurists. In addition we are expecting well over 1,500 insolvency professionals. As a result of your continuing support, we will be able to offer unique networking opportunities, as well as the chance to catch up with old friends and colleagues, and to form new relationships. Also, you will enjoy a unique opportunity to interact with many of the judges during the many education and social programs scheduled this year.

The conference will also provide an opportunity to showcase many of the outstanding insolvency organizations. The American Bankruptcy Institute, the Commercial Law League of America, the American Bar Association, the International Womens Insolvency and Restructuring Confederation, INSOL, the American College of Bankruptcy and the Association of Insolvency and Restructuring Advisors will have educational programs interspersed among and sometimes in conjunction with NCBJ education programs. The collaboration of the NCBJ with these other organizations will offer insolvency professionals unparalleled educational and networking opportunities. This program is color coded to highlight the education programs offered by each organization and you will be able to take advantage of the many quality offerings.

Dennis Dow, the chair of the NCBJ Education Committee, and the committee members have worked diligently to present an education program that offers something for both the individual and corporate insolvency professionals. There will also be programs for international insolvency professionals.

In addition to the educational offerings and networking opportunities, you will have an opportunity to enjoy the hospitality and sights and sounds of the city of Atlanta. The downtown location will put you in close proximity to many of Atlanta's attractions such as the CNN Center, the Martin Luther King, Jr. National Historic Site, the Georgia Aquarium (the world's largest), the World of Coca-Cola, the High Museum and Centennial Olympic Park. There will be group tours of the foregoing attractions. For those interested in shopping, it is a short train or cab ride to Lenox Mall and Phipps Plaza, two of the premier shopping destinations in the Atlanta area. The downtown location also will allow you easy access to some of the finest restaurants that Atlanta has to offer. Golfers will want to make sure to take advantage of the golf outing at Druid Hills Golf Club, only minutes from downtown. Our Final Night Dinner entertainment on Friday will be none other than the incomparable Temptations.

Please register and make your hotel reservations early to make sure that you have a room in the Marriott. We hope to see you this fall in Atlanta.

President, NCBJ

DON'T LOSE YOUR APPEAL: APPELLATE ADVOCACY IN THE POST-STERN WORLD

As we mark the two-year anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision in Stern v. Marshall, judges, practitioners and academics continue to grapple with its implications. This program will address two issues that remain unsettled after Stern: (1) Does a bankruptcy court have the constitutional authority to enter final judgment on a preference claim against a defendant that has not filed a proof of claim?; and (2) With the consent of the parties, may a bankruptcy court issue a final judgment that it otherwise would not have the power to enter? These issues will be explored in the context of a mock oral argument featuring two leading appellate advocates, who will present their arguments to a panel of federal appellate judges. After Argument the judges will offer their insights about effective appellate advocacy and their reactions to the presentations.

Many, if not most, of the Chapter 11 bankruptcies in the past few years have been built around a section 363 sale of assets rather than a stand-alone reorganization. Our panel will address issues arising from this trend including (1) what interests may the seller strip; (2) how fast is too fast; (3) who should "pay the freight;" and (4) avoiding post-closing problems.

SESSION A: POTHOLES IN THE YELLOW BRICK ROAD: RESTRUCTURING MUNICIPAL DEBT IN AND OUT OF CHAPTER 9

SESSION B: I CAN'T AFFORD TO BE BANKRUPT: IS THERE EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE UNDER THE BANKRUPTCY CODE?

One of the oft-touted goals of the consumer bankruptcy system is to provide individuals suffering from financial distress a fresh start. The system, however, is procedurally complex and technical, which raises concerns about the ability of such individuals to navigate the process successfully and thus to access bankruptcy's fresh start. The direct costs of representation and filing for bankruptcy further complicate matters, either by potentially shutting out from the system debtors who do not have the means to pay such costs or by forcing such debtors to navigate the system without representation. This panel will provide insights on access-to-justice issues confronted by consumer debtors, including a discussion of the requirements of prepetition credit counseling and postpetition financial management education, fee-waiver practices, the Forms Modernization Project, reaffirmations, and pro se activity in the bankruptcy courts.

The panel will also discuss recent case law addressing these topics and will address the question of when the lien strip is effective (confirmation, consummation or discharge).

THE ROLE OF EMPIRICAL RESEARCH IN THE BANKRUPTCY SYSTEM

Over the last several decades, the bench and bar have criticized the legal academy regarding the utility of scholarship it produces. At the same time, empirical research in the field of bankruptcy has flourished. This panel will provide insights on whether empirical scholarship has influenced and whether it should influence the manner in which the bench and bar approach adjudication in the bankruptcy system; the effect such scholarship has had on legislative change and media reporting on bankruptcy; and problems in the consumer and business bankruptcy systems that would benefit from empirical study.

A COMITY OF ERRORS?—RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN INTERNATIONAL INSOLVENCY

In a globalized economy, U.S. Courts need to grapple with cases that are pending in multiple jurisdictions and with the problem of how to reconcile different (and possibly discriminatory) creditor treatment across borders. This panel will address emerging issues in managing cross-border cases under Chapter 15, problems of equitable distribution of proceeds, and ways to improve cooperation and communication between courts. This panel is presented in cooperation with the American College of Bankruptcy and INSOL.

ATLANTA HEROES

THURSDAY: OCTOBER 31, 2013

Price: $84.00 per person
 Maximum: 45 people
 Departure: Meet in the Marriott Courtland St. Entrance on the International Level at 9:15 am
 Board buses for 3 stops in historic sites of Atlanta
 Lunch at Mary Mac's Tea Room
 Return by bus to the Marriott at 2:30 pm

Our first stop on this tour is the MARTIN LUTHER KING MEMORIAL where we will take a walk down Sweet Auburn Avenue. The Martin Luther King Jr. Historic District is where our most noted hero and dreamer was born, grew up, preached and was buried. We will also stop at the MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. CENTER FOR SOCIAL CHANGE, where his grave site is located. From here, you'll be able to see MLK's birth home and the Ebenezer Baptist Church where he preached. This is one of Atlanta's oldest neighborhoods and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Next you will enjoy a fantastic true southern lunch at MARY MAC'S TEA ROOM. In her own way, Mary McKinsey is also an Atlanta hero. Miss Mary opened this Tea Room's doors in 1945 to earn a living with her good southern cooking. In the post-World War II days, it was not socially acceptable for a woman to open a restaurant, so many female proprietors used the more genteel southern name of "Tea Room." Though the restaurant has expanded in size over the years, the recipes of over sixty-five years remain the same.

This lovely historic tour ends with a visit to Georgia native and the 38th President of the United States, Jimmy Carter's CARTER PRESIDENTIAL CENTER. The Center reopened in October of 2009 after a $10 million renovation to modernize the center and update his story. With an Oval Office replica, the 24,000-square-foot facility is an interactive experience and includes details from Carter's childhood and post-presidential life. Included in the many aspects explored during his presidency are why he chose to go to Camp David with Sadat and Begin, the Iranian Hostage Crisis and his daily life at the White House.

Advisory: Wear comfortable shoes and bring a camera.

magnificent maples and wooded landscape that includes 5 linear parks designed by world famous landscape designer, Frederick Law Olmsted.

The Club is prominently situated in the heart of a "Golden Age" neighborhood, and it resonates with a historical beauty of yesteryear. The Druid Hills Club was founded in 1912 and its history is intertwined with the history of Atlanta. Many of Atlanta's city business leaders enjoy the membership privileges at Druid Hills today.

Gear up and bring your best game and play a beautiful and historic golf course. Please note that you must purchase your own lunch. Lunch will be available to buy at the clubhouse as well as boxed lunches to go on the course.

Advisory: Should you need to rent clubs, please call 404-377-1768. Bring suntan lotion, a camera, and money for lunch.

HIGH MUSEUM OF ART & VIKING COOKING SCHOOL

FRIDAY: NOVEMBER 1, 2013

Price: $198.00 per person

Maximum: 35 people

Departure: Meet in the Marriott Courtland St. Entrance on the International Level at 9:45 am
Board buses to High Museum for tour until 11:45 am
Viking Cooking School for cooking and lunch
Return to the Marriott at 3:45 pm

Atlanta's HIGH MUSEUM OF ART is truly a work of art in itself. The building was completed in 1983 and has become one of the city's best known landmarks. The museum was named one of the top ten buildings of the 1980's by the American Institute of Architects.

The High was designed by architect Richard Meier. It features galleries that interlock and interlook, with views stretching from one gallery to the next, out onto the ramps that connect each level and into the central atrium. The atrium serves as the focal point of the museum.

The museum's vast collection includes a growing body of contemporary art; a decorative arts collection featuring a superb group of 19th and 20th century American furniture; beautiful 19th-century American landscape paintings; European painting and sculpture from the 14th through the 19th centuries; dramatic African masks and ceremonial figures; folk art, and photography.

Off we go to VIKING COOKING SCHOOL to make some classic Southern Dishes of our own with a "hands on" experience. You will divide into groups and make:

- Deviled Eggs/Pimento Cheese
- Southern Barbequed Shrimp
- Buttermilk Baked "Fried" Chicken
- Sweet Potato Biscuits
- Tangy Sweet & Sour Slaw
- Fruit Cobbler
- Arnold Palmers

Advisory: Comfortable shoes and clothing, a camera and money for the museum shop.

TOURS

SIMPLY SOUTHERN

FRIDAY: NOVEMBER 1, 2013

Price: $91.00 per person

Maximum: 45 people

Departure: Meet in the Marriott Courtland St. Entrance on the International Level at 9:45 am
Board buses to the Atlanta History Center & Olympic Museum
Lunch at the Swan Coach House
Return to the Marriott at 2:45 pm

In 1926, fourteen civic-minded Atlantans chartered the Atlanta Historical Society to preserve the city's history. They collected manuscripts and photographs and published research bulletins to arouse in the citizens and friends of Atlanta an interest in its history.

Over the past 87 years, the organization has grown tremendously in size and scope, and in 1990, the Atlanta Historical Society and all of its holdings officially became the Atlanta History Center. Located on 33 acres in historic Buckhead, the A.H.C. connects people, history and culture through one of the country's premier history centers, and one of the largest in the nation.

The A.H.C. property includes six historic gardens, each of which tells the story of a particular group of people who interacted with the land and its plants, both native and introduced.

Also included in the History Center is the SWAN HOUSE, a dream mansion built in 1928 for a very prominent Atlanta family, Edward and Emily Inman. Designed by architect Philip Trammel Shutze, it recalls the graceful Italian villas designed by Andrea Palladio in the 16th century and the Palladian country houses favored in 18th century England.

The TULLIE SMITH HOUSE, which adjoins the Swan House, is one of the few extant pre-Civil War houses in Atlanta. It authentically depicts the daily life of simple farming people in early inland Georgia.

Lunch is included at the fabulous SWAN COACH HOUSE, which is a restaurant, a gift shop, and a gallery.

Advisory: Wear comfortable shoes and bring a camera and money to shop.

FINAL NIGHT DINNER

The Ultimate Love Song:

You should know that "My Girl," "Aint Too Proud to Beg."
Her "Beauty Is Only Skin Deep," but she's no "Runaway Child."
Her "Papa was a Rolling Stone," who was on "Cloud Nine" living in a "Psychedelic Shack."
But when it was time to "Get Ready," I knew she would tell me "I Can't Get Next to You."
"Since I Lost My Baby," I know that I felt like "I Wish It Would Rain."
If only I had another chance, I would "Treat Her Like A Lady."
